PROFILE

If there's one thing that you should know about me is that I love a good puzzle. I go into every situation understanding that there's a solution and it's our job to find it! That's why I named our company "Make Good Lemonade". When you're searching for an answer to a question or a solution to a problem sometimes you have to make the lemonade. Getting it done is paramount and sometimes that requires creative solutions. That's making lemonade.
